Message from Bishop Steven-

I would like to highlight some of the initiatives and resources that USCCB/MRS (Migration Refugee Services) has developed in anticipation of National Migration Week (NMW) on January 7-13, 2018. This year’s NMW is particularly timely because it concludes about a week before Congress is likely to face a final decision on must-pass appropriations legislation, which could serve as a vehicle for legislative protections for Dreamers.

- The NMW toolkit provides prayer oriented resources, community engagement advice, and support for individuals interested in engaging in social media outreach. The toolkit is available at this link: https://justiceforimmigrants.org/2016site/wp-content/uploads/2017/11/2018-NMW-Final-Toolkit.pdf

- On January 12, USCCB/MRS is co-sponsoring a webinar with Catholic Charities USA that will provide an opportunity to discuss the Share the Journey Campaign and National Migration Week. The webinar will highlight the work of dioceses across the country on migration, including Louisville, Boston, and San Diego. Finally, Congress is down to 3 months to decide the fate of 800,000 DACA students. Over the next few weeks, I encourage you to regularly check the diocesan website as well as the Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram for resources to raise awareness about this situation.
